FINANCIAL & COMMERCIAL

The aspect in financial affairs is unchanged and the "spirit of quiet" still "broods over the land." Business is very dull, and until after harvest there will be but little doing in produce. Money, while scarce on the street, is easily obtained on good security, and rates are unchanged. The money markets of New York and Baltimore are quoted extremely easy, and in the former 2a21 is the rate at the Stock Exchange for call loans secured by U. S. bonds or other good collaterals. Prime mercantile paper is 41a51 per cent. State securities are firmer, Virginia consols being in request at 663. In local railroad securities there is but little doing, and we quote:

EXAMINATION OF COUNTY SCHOOLS. - As the Superintendent of Public Schools expects to be absent at the Centennial Exposition when those schools are closed, he visited and examined most of them yesterday, being accom-panied and assisted by Geo. R. Adams, esq., the Chairman of the Arlington District Board.

The first school visited was Jefferson No. 1, of Jefferson District, at Fort Albany. This is a colored school, taught by Calvin H. Richardson, and was very numerously attended. The pupils, though not quite meeting the just expectations of the Superintendent, as yet, showed much more preficiency than they did last year, and gave evidence of labor on the part of their teacher, who is a man of intelligence and superior education. Arlington School, No. 2, at Freedmen's Vil lage, also colored, is a very large one, and is admirably taught by Miss Livinia Lane. The reading, spelling, geography, grammar and arithmetic were all good, and the Superintendent warmly congratulated Miss Lane, and assured her that her school was perhaps better than any of like grade in either city or county.

Columbia School, No. 1, in the same District, ought to be the best school in the county, but passed a very poor examination, upon which both the Superintendent and the Chairman commented, attributing it to the constant change of teachers. Miss Alberta V. Sisson. who is at present teaching it, gave great satisfaction while in charge of Ruffner School, and it is hoped that she will be able to make it what it ought to be.

Walker School, No. 3, (white) at Balston, taught by Mr. James E. Clements, was but thinly attended, most of the larger boys being absent. Those who were there, however, acquitted themselves very creditably.

In Washington District, Sumner School, No. 2, (colored,) was found very full, and the children presented a neater appearance than in any colored school in the county. Their performance, in reading, especially, showed the skill of their teacher, Miss Jennie E. Arnold.

Carne School, No. 1, (white,) has been under the charge of Mr. Samuel F. Staleup, a veteran teacher, yet one who keeps up with the times, since its organization, in 1871, and though most of the older pupils have left, as usual, to go to work, enough remained to show its superiority over any in the county. The Superintendent proposed questions here which he did not venture upon in the other schools, yet they were promptly and correctly answered.

The usual closing examination in Arlington District will take place on Friday the 30th inst .. and will be conducted, in the absence of the Superintendent, by the District Board, assisted by several gentlemen invited for the purpose. The arrangements for the other districts have not been aunounced as yet.

On Monday, July 3d, at 2 p. m., a competitive examination in spelling and reading, and a contest in elecution, free to all who have attended any public school in the county during the year, will take place at the Columbia school house, Arlington. The prizes are gold medals, that for elecution being given by Maj. Geo. Duffey, of this city.

> Ho! FOR PHILADELPHIA.—The high fare and threatened extortion caused most of our students to give up the idea of visiting the Centennial Exposition, and the Centennial Fund received few contributions in the latter part of the session. A few, however, persewered, and prices being now very low, will start, with the Principal, for Philadelphia, on the day after the Commencement. They have engaged board, for three days, with Mr. John A. Geib, formerly of Alexandria, who now keeps a board ing house at 2238 Laurence street, Philadelphia, and will return on Saturday, July 1st. That they will have a good time we have no doubt, and, when they get back, their descriptions of how things look will make those who spent their money, instead of saving it, sorry they didn't go there. The whole expense is but ten dollars each .- Academy Journal.

POLICE REPORT.—The following cases have been reported at police headquarters since yes-

Molly Beal, colored, for abusive language to Martha Jones, also colored, was discharged, and the complainant ordered to be arrested and brought before the Mayor. A white man, for using profane and vulgar language, on the complaint of A. Moran, was required to give security for his good behaviour. Four white women, for being drunk and disorderly on the street, were fined and discharged. Thomas Bridget, accused of abusing Geo. Schmidt, was dismissed on account of the non-appearance of the complainant. Four lodgers were accommodated at the station house last night.

HORSE THIEF CAPTURED. - Constable John R. Gray, succeeded yesterday, in arresting a young man named Wm. S. Collingswood, alias Wm. Howard, for stealing two horses from Dr. Cornell and Mr. Lesby, of Fairfax county. Collingswood carried the horses to Washington where he sold them. Upon being arrested he bitterly denied the theft, but upon being carried to Washington and confronted with the parties who bought the horses, they identified him as the person who sold them. The accused was examined by Justice Whittlesey who committed him for the action of the authorities of Fairfax, where the offence was committed. Collingswood is a young man of gentlemanly appearance and was employed for sometime by Mr. C. Gillingham at his place in Fairfax.

OVERBOARD. - A colored boy named Montague fell overboard yesterday at the American coal wharf, and came very near drowning. He was finally rescued by a colored man named William Lee, who jumped into the river and gra: ped the boy, and, aided by a rope thrown him by Mr. Samuel Henry, succeeded in bringing him to the wherf. There are a good many boys who make a practice of playing around the edges of the dock at the American wharf, and scarcely a week passes but there are one or two of them who fall overboard. Mr. Henry, the superintendent of the yard, has rescued several with his own hands from a watery of Prince street have been in the habit for some time past of playing on the elevator at Reed's ice house. They have been repeatedly warned and several times driven off, but always returned as soon as those in charge of the place lett. On Tuesday night, a number of them were riding on the elevator, when it came down with great violence, and the rope becoming unhooked, while one of the boys named Charles Clary had hold of it, he was jerked violently unwards striking his head against the roof; and being knocked senseless, the boy let go his hold on the rope and fell to the ground a distance of some thirty feet. He was picked up by his companions and carried to his home on Prince street near Union, where he now lies in a criti-cal condition. Dr. Klipstein is rendering the necessary medical attendance.

THE FERRY BOATS .- The Washington ferry boats on their late trips, now carry a great many ladies and children, who take advantage of the opportunity afforded them to get the cool breeze off the water. The trip is a cheap one and is, doubtless, productive of much good to the little ones after the sweltering heat of the day. The addition of a still later trip, it is believed, would pay well.

The formal opening was made and the trial proceeded as usual. The Managers appeared for the House and Messrs. Black and Blair for the defendant

Under the order of the Senate, passed at its last session, it became necessary for Mr. Belkpap to plead at once, or that a formal plea of "not guilty" be entered by the clerk.

Judge Black, for the defendant, announced the purpose of the defendant not to plead, as in his view the want of a two-thirds vote in favor of the jurisdiction of the Senate had already concluded the case. Mr. B. read a paper setting forth this view with the reasons therefor, which he a ked leave to file.
